

YOUR HEALTH IS OUR PRIORITY

Commitment To Campus Community Health

The health of the campus community is a responsibility for each of us. As members of that community, whether student, employee, or campus visitor, we commit to:

- 1) Monitor personal health daily. If we show symptoms or consider ourselves at risk of being contagious with any potentially communicable illness, we will stay away from campus until it is safe to return.
- 2) Respect others and their individual choices for facial coverings, physical contact, and personal space.
- 3) Make informed personal choices about vaccines and medications. (The university administration supports CDC recommendations with respect to vaccination against Covid-19 as well as up-to-date booster immunizations.)
